Risking Connection®

Risking Connection®: A Transformative Whole System Intervention that Lasts

The Traumatic Stress Institute is proud of Risking Connection's sustainability within agencies. We believe trauma-informed culture change is hard. Sustaining it can be harder. Therefore, agencies have to keep working at it for years. Risking Connection, with its combination of an engaging, transformative basic training, a Train-the-Trainer model, continuing education for trainers, and a supportive agency network offers agencies a durable vehicle for change.

These statistics prove that Risking Connection is sustainable:

1. As of July 2014, 45 agencies/programs have adopted Risking Connection. 42 of those 45 are still open.
2. Of those 42 agencies, 32 agencies (76%) still actively use Risking Connection.
3. Of those 32 agencies...
  - 26 agencies have been using Risking Connection for 3 years or more (81%)
  - 12 agencies have been using Risking Connection for 7 years or more (38%)
  - 5 agencies have been using Risking Connection for 9 years or more (16%)

Risking Connection® enables agencies to transform their treatment...and create more effective healing for clients.
